Tenure Track Corrections Specialist Department of Criminal Justice

The Department of Criminal Justice at the University of Winnipeg invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1st, 2018, subject to budgetary approval. The preferred applicant will have a completed PhD and a demonstrated research agenda in penalty and corrections. Highly qualified candidates with research specialties in other core areas of criminal justice may also be considered. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The Department is a small unit of eight full time faculty with disciplinary training in criminology, geography, urban studies, psychology, law, and sociology who are committed to a broad and inclusive interdisciplinary approach to the study of criminal justice. We are interested in fostering both critical and applied scholarship. The Department services over 600 majors, is active in research and places a strong emphasis on teaching. The Department seeks candidates with a demonstrated ability or potential for excellence in teaching and scholarship. A commitment to collegiality and self-governance is also important. The successful candidate will be expected to teach Introduction to Criminal Justice, as well as specialized courses in their area of expertise within the existing undergraduate program and in the new MA program in Criminal Justice beginning in 2018.

The University of Winnipeg is committed to employment equity, welcomes diversity in the workplace, and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, members of racialized communities, indigenous persons, persons with disabilities and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, this advertisement is initially directed to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

The University of Winnipeg is one of Canada's leading post-secondary liberal arts institutions. The University of Winnipeg is a leader in academic excellence in areas such as justice education, Aboriginal education, environmental studies & sustainability, and theatre & the arts. The University of Winnipeg is committed to improving access to post-secondary education, and has created an innovative Opportunity Fund to assist students who are under-represented to attend the University of Winnipeg.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae; teaching dossier; research agenda; a sample publication or writing sample, official transcripts of all graduate level work, and three letters of reference.
